Speculate Ike's Latest Denial Of Candidacy

Some Believe General Open To '52 Draft; Byrnes Talk Pondered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 — (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's latest thumbs-down on a presidential candidacy found about as many believers as cynics in Washington today.

Eisenhower told reporters at Cincinnati yesterday that he is devoting all of his time to his job as president of Columbia university and has no intention of seeking political office.

Politicians willing to take the general's words at face value said Eisenhower seems to be pursuing the course least likely to win him a nomination.

Cynics contended that the general's words left him open to a possible draft by the Republican national convention in 1952. They said such a draft movement might grow by leaps and bounds if GOP candidates don't fare so well in the 1950 congressional races.

While this speculation occupied the Republican camp, Democrats wondered whether former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes might be laying the ground work for an anti-Truman organization with his attacks on the President's "Fair Deal."

Byrnes' attacks on what he calls the "socialistic programs" of the President are regarded here as bearing more weight than the same words uttered by Republicans.

Byrnes, whose break with Mr. Truman has never been publicly explained, has hinted that he might be a candidate for governor of South Carolina.

However, some of his friends are speculating that Byrnes might get out of the field at the last moment to leave the way open for his long-time friend and law partner, Donald Russell, to make the race.

Byrnes' speech to the southern governors' conference was credited in part for the adoption yesterday by that group of a resolution opposing government regulation of individuals and calling for restoration of state sovereignty.

Union Thanksgiving Rites Scheduled

Salem church goes will assemble in Emmanuel Lutheran church at 10 a. m. Thursday for the annual Community Thanksgiving service, sponsored by the Salem Ministerial association.

Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preach the sermon using for his theme, "Remembering God's Blessings."

The Girls choir, under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Seeman, will furnish special music.

Promise Statement On Truck Strike

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23—(AP)—The Ohio Over-the-Road Employers Association promised a statement for today concerning a four-day strike by state truck drivers.

Spokesmen for employers and the striking AFL-teamsters' union indicated a settlement is near. They had scheduled a meeting last night but postponed it until today to give employers more time to establish their position.

Union officials estimate that more than half of the original 7,000 strikers have gone back to work after reaching agreements with their firms.

Those contracts provide for eight cent hourly wage increases, a 1/4 cent boost in mileage rates and an employer financed health and welfare program. They also call for five cent hourly hikes after 14 months.

Landis O'Brien of Tiffin, chairman of the Employers' negotiating committee, said a statement on the strike will be presented after today's meeting with the union.

Germans Accept Big Three Plans

Chancellor To Report To Bonn On Thursday

BONN, Germany, Nov. 23 — (AP)—West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has accepted proposals by the three Allied high commissioners to relax occupation controls.

Agreement was reached last night to set into motion ideas adopted two weeks ago by the Big-Three foreign ministers for improving German economy and including at least the Western zones into the European family of nations once again.

Details of the agreement were not disclosed. They will be made public tomorrow.

Adenauer, however, has announced that the Western occupation powers have proposed to reduce considerably the Allied program of tearing down German industrial plants, to permit Germany once again to build up her merchant fleet, to allow the Germans to have consular representatives abroad and to join some of the international organizations in the hope of unifying European economy.

In return for these concessions the Germans have been asked to recognize international control over the rich industrial Ruhr valley, to work with the Allied security board in preventing German rearmament and to give guarantees its big war industrial plants will be broken up.

Although the agreement needs no parliamentary ratification on the part of the Germans, Adenauer is scheduled to report in full to the Bonn assembly Thursday. A lively debate is expected on the subject.

Adenauer is expected to give details of how occupation controls are to be relaxed.

Mullins Executives To Attend Convention

Three executives of the Mullins Mfg. Corp. have registered for the 54th annual Congress of American Industry in New York City Dec. 7, 8 and 9.

They are Harry M. Heckathorn, executive vice president; Harold F. Wykoff, treasurer; and A. D. LeMonte, director of public relations.

The convention, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, is the nation's major gathering of industrialists.

Presbyterians To Hear Church Historian

Rev. William T. Hanzsche, pastor of the Prospect Street Presbyterian church of Trenton, N. J., an authority on the history of the church, will speak at the Presbyterian Men's Council dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m., Monday in the church. His topic is "Presbyterian Story in the United States."

Reservations may be made by calling the church office, 3220. The women of the church may listen in on the meeting from the dining room balcony.

Wild Rioting Kills 1, Injures 11 In Panama

Unseated President Leads Throgs In New Attempt To Get Power

PANAMA, Panama, Nov. 23—(AP)—Two men claimed the presidency of Panama today after a wild night of rioting in which one child was killed and 11 wounded.

Police gunfire smashed a near-revolt as Dr. Daniel Chanas, Jr. forced to resign as president Sunday in a national police coup—led thousands of supporters in a march on the presidential palace in an attempt to regain power.

Inside the palace behind police guards was Roberto Chiari, former vice president who was sworn in as president after Chanas bowed to a police ultimatum and resigned. He insisted he would sit tight and remain president.

National police, who are Panama's only armed force, dispersed the marchers with machine-gun bullets, rifle fire and tear gas.

The demonstrators had rallied behind Chanas as he dramatically strode into a session of the national assembly and declared: "I withdraw my resignation." He flung the letter to the floor and insisted he still was the Constitutional President of Panama.

The 58-year-old surgeon-politician, who had served as president only four months until he was ousted by Police Chief Col. Jose Remon, then led a crowd of demonstrators that grew to thousands as they passed through the streets.

In Cathedral plaza, a block from the presidential palace, helmeted police opened fire. For two hours rioting flared at a hot pitch. Buses were overturned. Windows of fashionable shops were smashed and looted.

As the shooting died down, three-year-old Manuel Pazmino was dead. His father was among the 11 wounded.

As dawn appeared police appeared to be in full control of the city.

Grins When Told Heart Stopped 7 Minutes

ZANESVILLE, Nov. 23—(AP)—J. D. Settles managed a weak grin yesterday when he was told his heart stopped beating for seven minutes during an operation.

"I feel fine," he said after hearing the news in Good Samaritan hospital.

The surgeon, Dr. Charles Murray, said this is what happened to the 59-year-old Pennsylvania railroad machinist.

Half-way through the operation for an acute intestinal disorder last Friday, Settles' heart stopped beating. The surgeon made another incision, took out the heart, and kneaded it in his hands. He felt a feeble heart beat seven minutes later. When the pulse grew stronger, a few minutes later, his heart was replaced.

Armed Rebels Approach Manila; Many Hurt

MANILA, Nov. 23—(INS)—Armed rebels were seen approaching Manila tonight in part of an uprising that provoked scattered battles where scores of casualties were inflicted.

In Batangas province, where the principal fighting raged, at least 27 Philippine constabularymen were killed while the insurgents suffered an unknown number of fatalities, according to Manila newspapers.

Almost totally paralyzed then, Janice can walk a little now, for which entire family is thankful.

Ward Released, Strike Effects Told To Leave

Jailed U. S. Consul Freed By Chinese Reds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—(AP)—Angus Ward, the American consul general at Mukden, has been released from jail by the Chinese Communists and ordered out of the country.

The communists also released four consulate aides who were jailed with Ward Oct. 24 on what the State department called "trumped up" charges of beating and insulting two Chinese in a wage dispute.

The department announced today it had received word of the releases from Ward himself. It was the first direct word from the consul general in a month.

In winding up what the department has denounced as their

ANGUS WARD

"barbaric" treatment of Ward, the communists gave him a trial before a "people's court."

This court found them all guilty and meted out varying prison sentences. Then the sentences were commuted to deportation.

Ward, 56-year-old veteran diplomat, made his report in a telephone conversation with American Consul General G. Edmund Clubb at Peiping. Clubb rushed the information to Washington.

The State department instructed Clubb to tell Ward "that he and his entire staff are to depart from Mukden forthwith."

The four jailed with Ward were Ralph Rehberg, of Rochester, N. Y., a foreign service clerk; Shiro Tatsumi, a mechanic; and two European employees of the consulate, Franco Cicogna and Alfred Kristan. Rehberg and Tatsumi are American citizens.

"Sonic Barrier" Is Myth To New Navy Plane

MUROC DRY LAKE, Calif., Nov. 23—(AP)—Test Pilot Eugene F. May says there is no such thing as the feared "sonic barrier" for a well designed aircraft such as the Navy's Douglas-built sky-rocket.

The Navy disclosed yesterday that the rocket and jet-powered research plane has exceeded the speed of sound repeatedly in level flight. Depending on altitude, the speed of sound varies from 660 to 761 miles per hour.

The maximum speed of the Skyrocket, officially designated the D-558-2, was not disclosed.

Strike Effects Hit Automakers

Holiday Closure To Last Through Dec. 12

DETROIT, Nov. 23—(AP)—Delayed effects of the steel strike will hit the nation's automobile industry hard next week.

With but few exceptions the factories closing tonight for the Thanksgiving day holiday will remain idle until perhaps Dec. 12 or later.

Ford, Hudson and Studebaker and a few branch assembly plants of other companies around the country will furnish all the motor vehicle output next week. Even Ford will cut down to four days' operation and Studebaker will close on Nov. 30.

Thus weekly production will tumble sharply to not more than 50,000 vehicles. The plant closings added to those already down will bring temporary idleness to an estimated quarter million automotive workers.

In several instances unemployment will be relieved by the continuance of parts fabricating work. A number of car makers about to swing over to new model production also have kept a substantial number of their employees at work on plant rearrangement, inventory, and parts, service and sales operations.

Excepting for Pontiac all the General Motors shutdowns coincide with the completion of 1949 model production. Pontiac swung over to 1950 model output two weeks ago.

The same is true also of the various Chrysler divisions, of which all but Plymouth already have closed down for new model operations.

Already closed also are Ford's Lincoln division, the Nash plants at Kenosha and Milwaukee and Willys-Overland at Toledo.

Kaiser-Frazer, which has been closed down since Oct. 24, has given no indication when it will reopen.

Lions Club Sees Film On Summer Convention

Richard Walker, first vice president of the East Liverpool Lions Club, showed movies of the Lions International Convention taken last summer in New York City when the local club met last night at the Lape Hotel.

He gave a narration of the events and places as the film was shown. Eight officers of the East Liverpool club joined Walker in the Salem visit. Don Cannon was program chairman.

Harold Shears demonstrated the new eye testing machine at the meeting. It will be used in testing third grade pupils in Salem schools. The program will begin next week at Columbia School.

Dies As Car Skids Off Road; Wife, Daughter Injured

Dallas H. Hepburn, 52, president of the Peoples State bank at Lisbon, was killed in a traffic accident Tuesday at 9 p. m. on State Route 9 south of the Columbiana-Carroll county line near Augusta.

Mr. Hepburn, who was widely known in Columbiana county, was riding with his wife, Lucille, and 20-year-old daughter Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Hepburn had motored to Miami University at Oxford, where Miss Hepburn is a student, to bring her home for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Salem state highway patrolmen reported that the Hepburn car, driven by Miss Hepburn, skidded over an embankment and plunged into a woods, striking two trees.

The impact threw Mr. Hepburn from the car, crushing his chest and fracturing his neck.

Mrs. Hepburn and Virginia suffered minor lacerations and bruises and were treated later by a Lisbon physician.

According to the state patrol, Miss Hepburn applied the brakes of the car when she came upon the scene of a traffic accident which had occurred about 15 minutes earlier.

The condition of the highway at that point was icy and the Hepburn car careened from the road.

Local police were notified of the accident by the Hanoverton telephone operator.

The body of Mr. Hepburn, who is believed to have died almost immediately, was taken to the Maple funeral home at Kensington and later was removed to the Eells-Leggett parlors in Lisbon.

Mr. Hepburn, who had been associated with banks in Columbiana as well as Lisbon, was a native of Columbiana county.

Born March 18, 1896, in Center township, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hepburn. He succeeded his father as president of the Peoples State bank in Lisbon three years ago, following his father's death. Prior to joining the Lisbon bank he was an officer in the Citizens Savings bank at Columbiana.

He was a member of the Methodist church and was on the building committee for a new church. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and the American Legion.

Besides his wife and daughter Virginia, he leaves another daughter, Marjorie Hepburn of Detroit, and two sisters, Miss Oral Hepburn and Miss Mary Hepburn of Ashville, N. C.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the family home, in charge of Rev. J. G. Waelder. Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call at the home Thursday afternoon and evening.

Six Believed Lost In C-54 Plane Crash

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23—(AP)—Air force search crews scanned mountain ridges north of here today for trace of a four-engine transport plane missing with six men aboard.

The Cascade mountain timbered area is a graveyard for military aircraft during the winter months. Five military planes have crashed in the vicinity in recent years.

The four engine C-54 transport was last heard from yesterday at 10:47 a. m., when the pilot asked permission of the Civilian Airways control to descend to 6,000 feet of altitude. The plane was preparing to make an instrument landing here while on a training flight from McChord base.

City Schools To Close For Two-Day Vacation

Salem's 2,700 school children and 106 teachers and administrative staff members will have a two-day vacation on Thursday and Friday in the annual Thanksgiving observance.

During the week special classroom programs and assemblies in some schools have been held as the pupils minds are turned towards Thanksgivings of Pilgrim days and the modern version of the holiday.

Russia Disputes China UN Seat

Refuses To Recognize Nationalist Delegates

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky announced today Russia no longer recognizes the Chinese Nationalist delegation as the spokesmen for China in the United Nations.

This means that the Soviet Union will not consider the Chiang Kai-Shek regime as a proper member of the Security Council, where China shares the right of veto with the other big powers—Russia, the United States, Britain and France.

Recently Yugoslavia was elected to the Security Council, over Russian protests, but Yugoslavia will not share the right of veto when it takes its seat in January.

The Soviet Union previously broke diplomatic relations with the Chiang regime and accorded recognition to the Communist regime at Peiping.

Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, told the United Nations Assembly he fully supports last week's message from the Chinese Reds saying the present Chinese U.N. delegation cannot speak for China.

"We will not regard the Kuomintang delegation" as representatives of China," Vishinsky said. He made his announcement at the beginning of a speech on atomic control.

House Won't Probe Denfeld's Removal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—(AP)—The reasons for removal of Admiral Louis E. Denfeld as Chief of Naval Operations will not be probed by the house armed services committee. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) so told newsmen today.

Denfeld's removal followed the committee's recent investigation of national defense policies which brought into sharp focus differences of opinion among Navy, Army and Air Force leaders. The admiral, a "star" witness, criticized defense policies. His removal was requested by Secretary of the Navy Matthews.

As far as he is concerned, Vinson said, there will be no more hearings in the armed services squabble despite requests of some committee members.

Vinson's committee is due to make a formal report to congress early next year on its study of the defense row. That, said Vinson, will be the end of the episode.

Driver Escapes Injury As Automobile Skids

Ford Miller, 28, of Bergholz was uninjured at 8:45 p. m. Tuesday when his car skidded off Route 9 near the Columbiana, Carroll county line. The car was damaged.

Scene of the Miller accident was near the place where Dallas H. Hepburn, Lisbon Peoples State bank president, was killed 15 minutes later.

Despite icy pavements these two accidents were the only ones reported by the patrol this morning.

Bridges' Lawyer Draws Sentence

Contempt Count Flung Bitterly; Granted Stay

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23—(AP)—With Harry Bridges taking a back seat, almost forgotten amid the tumult, the longshoremen leader's attorney in his perjury trial yesterday drew six months for criminal contempt of court.

The lawyer narrowly missed having to go to jail immediately. Federal Judge George B. Harris imposed the jail sentence on

VINCENT HALLINAN

Attorney Vincent Hallinan after a bitter, scathing exhortation, the like of which probably never had been paralleled in local federal court history.

The judge ordered the colorful and stormy figure of the San Francisco bar taken into custody immediately. But he later relented and granted a stay to permit Hallinan to continue for the duration of the trial.

Bridges, 48, naturalized Australian, head of the left wing CIO Longshore Union, is charged with falsely swearing at his 1945 naturalization hearing that he never had been a communist. He and two union aides are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

During the height of the torrid, acrimonious clash, Hallinan lost shouted demands for a mistrial and tried unsuccessfully to disqualify Judge Harris from taking any further action in the contempt proceeding.

The court held that Hallinan consistently had ignored his rules and directions, insisted on going afieid, and sought to bring in matter ruled out by the judge, including references to the 1939 and the 1945 Supreme court opinion.

Citing some 40 to 50 specific instances, Judge Harris asserted:

"Mr. Hallinan was not bearing on contempt. He was contemptuous in every form and degree.

$4,000 In Liquor Short In Ohio Cargo

COLUMBUS, Nov. 23—(AP)—Theft or loss of liquor valued at $4,000, consigned to the Ohio board of liquor control, was reported today.

The Eastern Motor Dispatch Co. reported 100 cases of whisky missing—part of cargo which left Peekskill, N. Y., Nov. 18.

The shortage was noticed in Columbus. The truck seal was intact.

Police of Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York are investigating.

Inspections Low By Fire Marshal

No Funds Given As Reason For Laxity

COLUMBUS, Nov. 23—(AP)—The state fire marshal has inspected only four state welfare schools, hospitals or prisons for fire hazards in the last eight years, a survey disclosed today.

The law says the state fire marshal shall inspect all public buildings once a year. But, that office has inspected only four of 26 public welfare department institutions in eight years.

The survey did not extend beyond 1941, nor did it deal with the thousands of other Ohio public buildings.

"We just do not have the men to make the inspections," said Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan.

Why? Callan said he didn't have the money to hire an adequate staff. The yearly inspection provision of the state code hasn't been complied with for years.

Assistant inspectors under Callan's direction now number 24, the legal minimum. There are 39,000 Ohio restaurants alone that, by law, must be inspected.

That first year, the fire insurance tax totaled only $25,000. But, it has grown by several hundred per cent and license fees are sizeable.

The take, today, is more than adequate—if the state fire marshal was allowed to use it.

With his depleted staff and meager funds his inspectors have visited these welfare institutions since 1941:

Cambridge State hospital, Lima State hospital for the criminal insane, Marysville reformatory for women and Toledo State hospital.

J. Wallace Huntington, Columbus insurance company president who is chairman of the state fire marshal's advisory council, said the reason the fire marshal didn't have adequate funds is "because the State of Ohio is robbing the state fire marshal's office."

TEMPERATURES

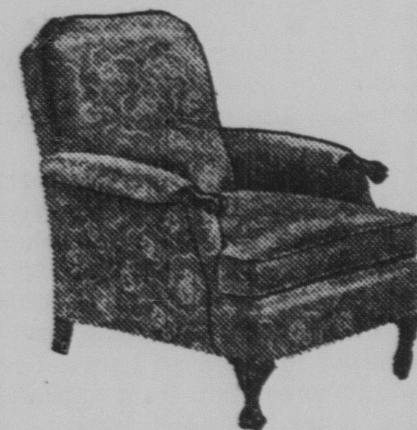

By International News Service. Ohioans attending traditional Thanksgiving day football games will have their appetites whetted for turkey dinners by crisp winds and snow-covered landscapes come tomorrow.

Forecaster Earl Hughes said temperatures would remain near the freezing mark on the holiday but he pointed out that no further snow is expected after some flurries tonight.

The mercury will drop to about 26 degrees at most points in the state tonight, Hughes said, with slightly higher readings expected in the southern portions of Ohio. Hughes said temperatures would begin a steady decline to the sub-freezing mark after reaching a high of about 46 today.

Dog, Trapped 28 Days In Closet, Lives

ZANESVILLE, Nov. 23—(AP)—It shouldn't happen to a dog, but it did.

On Oct. 17 Punch, a two-year-old black cocker spaniel owned by Miss Sybil Burton, disappeared.

Miss Burton advertised in the newspaper and telephoned friends.

But Punch couldn't be found, and the owner gave up the dog for lost.

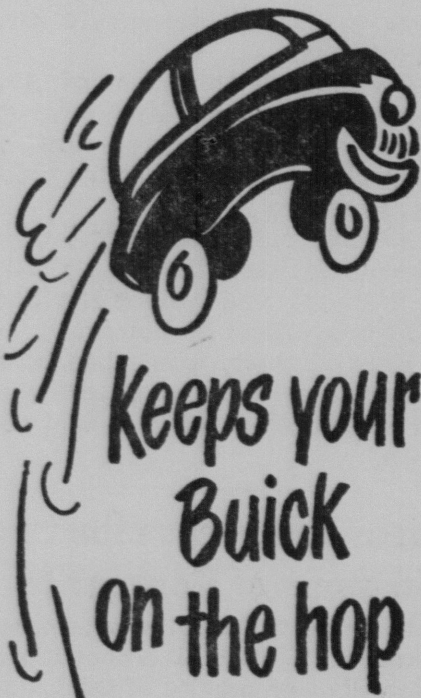

On Nov. 14, Mrs. Burton Dodd, sister of Punch's mistress, went to the third floor of the 20-room Burton mansion in search of her overshoes, she opened a clothes closet.

There lay Punch. After 28 days without food or water, he had lost 12 pounds and was pretty weak, but he was alive.

A veterinarian fed him sparingly. Punch rallied. Two days later he developed pneumonia. But he recovered, and today was returning to normal.

Miss Burton speculated that the dog became locked in the closet when she was showing friends through the house on Oct. 17. The veterinarian said Punch came through the ordeal alive probably because he had been well-fed previously.

Rotarians Hear Bank Official

Explanation Given On Pension Plans

Paul Belcher, vice president and cashier of the First National bank of Akron, discussed "Prospects For Financing Pensions" when he spoke at the Rotary club meeting Tuesday at the Memorial building.

He explained the pension problem and discussed the specific contracts recently signed by large companies and unions.

Belcher said since there is no fund now set up to finance the pensions, the program resembles a "pay-as-you-go" plan. It will cost the companies almost nine cents an hour to pay these pensions and will take from 10 to 12 years to arrive at a normal cost, he added.

Belcher said he viewed the present plan with disfavor as he observed that only a few companies now have these pensions and the program is tied directly to the government social security plan. Eventually, he said, as the program expands to include more people, the government will take a larger part and will finally take over the complete program, resulting in soaring taxes.

Harold Musser was program chairman.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23—(AP)—Craig Rice, author of many hard-boiled whodunits, has been committed to a state hospital as an alcoholic.

Her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Atwill, told a psychopathic court yesterday that 41-year-old Miss Rice has used liquor to excess for four or five years and needs institutional care.

Agricultural Society Elects

Charles Heim Heads Fair Group Again

LISBON, Nov. 23—Charles W. Heim of Lisbon was re-elected president of the Columbiana County Agricultural society at the annual reorganization meeting of the board of directors in the courthouse.

Galen Greenisen of Salem was re-elected vice president and J. Howard Sinclair of Hanoverton was re-named secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

Other members of the board of directors are: L. H. Copeland of Millport, L. R. Cobbs of Salem, Mazina Rudibaugh of Elkton, G. A. Quay of East Palestine and G. A. Rogers of Lisbon, Curtis Hively of New Waterford and P. R. Corey of Columbiana, the latter two being newly-elected members to the board.

Stricken Freighter Drifts Afire In Pacific

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 23—(AP)—The stricken freighter Eagle, third Panamanian freighter in slightly more than a month to catch fire off the Washington coast, drifted helplessly early today.

An Army transport, Gen. H. B. Freeman, stood by awaiting arrival of the Coast Guard cutter Winona from Port Angeles, Wash. The cutter, however, was not expected to reach the vessel until about 1 a. m., Thursday.

It was not known how many persons are aboard the freighter.

The General Freeman came alongside the ship shortly before midnight after a 60-mile dash in response to the Eagle's S. O. S.

Skunk Oil

Wonderful For CHEST COLDS

R. J. Blake, Pennsylvania druggist, says: "SKUNK OIL SALVE gives quick relief from distress of chest colds, croupy coughs, muscular aches and pains."

For centuries, the rich, warm, penetrating oil of the lowly skunk has been used in Russia and other cold countries to relieve certain forms of congestion, rheumatism and sore, aching muscles. Now, this pure natural penetrating oil is incorporated with six other natural ingredients into a delightfully smelling aromatic salve. Its warm, stimulating glow will last hours longer than the cheaper petrolatum salves. Get a small jar at your druggist today. Don't wait! (If druggist out of stock, accept no substitutes but rush 75c to Ol-Tyme Medicine Co., Box 1126, Warren, Ohio, for genuine relief-giving SKUNK OIL SALVE. Or $3 to above address for a year's supply for the whole family!)

Goshen Unit Makes Grange Visit Plans

At the meeting of Goshen grange Friday evening plans were made to attend the meeting of Pomona grange this Friday evening at Garfield grange. Pomona grange officers will be installed.

An invitation was received from Milton grange members to assist in celebrating their 75th anniversary at a covered dinner party Dec. 9 in the Milton hall. All grangers of Mahoning county are invited.

A Thanksgiving tableaux, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Starbuck and daughters, Patty and Eva, entertained, as did the singing of "Jingle Bells" and "Teddy Bears Picnic" by the two girls.

Other numbers enjoyed by the grangers included two humorous readings by Mrs. Russell Fortune and two songs, "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "America the Beautiful," by Lois and Dale Schaefer. "Eventide," a tableaux, was given by Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Lester McCrea. In conjunction with the tableaux, Mrs. Wade Schaefer read a poem entitled, "My Garden," to a piano accompaniment by Mrs. Harvey Bates. Mrs. Fred Wagmiller and Mrs. Lloyd Marshall served the lunch. The next meeting is Dec. 2.

Damascus Social Notes

Rev. Charles Bailey preached in the Beloit Friends church Sunday morning and evening, substituting for Rev. Owen Glassburn, who is ill.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Bailey returned home Friday from East Liverpool where they visited their son, Rev. Paul Bailey, and children.

Mrs. Amos Henry of Cleveland spent Thursday evening here with Mrs. Walter R. Williams. Rev. Henry attended a meeting of the Quaker Canyon committee at the Friends church.

Dr. Walter R. Williams spent the weekend in Columbus where he showed pictures of mission activities in India at the Sullivant Avenue church at a missionary convention. He was accompanied by Miss Carrie Wood of Oregon, veteran missionary in India, who spoke Friday evening and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Satterthwaite and family of Winona called on Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Warrington and son Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pollard of Norwich, Ontario, Canada, returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pollard, Miss Anna Haldeman and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Edna Burnett of Sanford, Fla., arrived here Saturday to make her home with her brother, Fred Delzell.

Mrs. Sarah Steer accompanied Frank Steer and children of Leetonia to Massillon Sunday where they visited relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brantingham and daughter, Esther, of Winona were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bardo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bohrn of Goshen, Ind., spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pemberton.

Beth and Kendra Phillips, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Phillips, are confined to their home with mumps.

Mrs. W. A. Talbott entertained a group of neighbors Friday afternoon. Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Seventy five quarts of fruit were canned Friday for the Friends Boarding school, Barnesville, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pemberton by members of the Wilbur Friends meeting.

Art Pupils To Aid TB Seal Campaign

The High school art club met Tuesday evening and worked on special posters for the Columbiana County Public Health League Christmas seal sales. The posters were made in airbrush technique as the artists use "flit guns" for the spray processes.

A contest is being held in art classes to prepare a design which will be used for the stage setting in the High school choruses' Christmas recital. There is also a competition being held for the design which will be used in the dogger booth at the Girl Scout fair.

Other pupils are lettering and painting signs for many Girl Scout fair booths and are making placards for street advertisements.

Decorations for the Junior-Senior prom, Dec. 2 will be worked out by the art pupils. The art classes will spend a day in the gym setting the scene for a snow carnival dance. While some of the artists are busy overhead producing a sky effect, others will build figures to represent snow sculptures.

Housewife Finds Bills In Milk Bottle, Gets $11

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23—The guy who put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder acted no less strangely than the mysterious someone responsible for getting a split $10-$1 bill into a quart of milk delivered to a housewife in suburban Berea.

The housewife, Mrs. Elizabeth Baechle, was able to redeem the split bill for $11 at the Federal

Thanksgiving

BY ANNE MARY LAWLER

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day,
Humbly, in our faltering way—
Not with the graceful wordly arts,
But simply, deeply, with our hearts—
As little children mindful of
A Father's broad and boundless love.

We thank Thee, Lord, for everything—
The shining miracle of Spring,
For green grass, cool and kindly rains,
Stars, and soft clouds in silken skeins,
For tall trees, patient and precise,
That point the way to Paradise.

We give Thee thanks for life's rich years,
For courage, and for cleansing tears,
For faith that builds us tall and strong,
For laughter, and the gift of song—
And most of all—that we are free
To bring our grateful hearts to Thee.

Dear Lord, we give Thee thanks for youth,
For trust and tenderness and truth,
For brotherhood—that we may tread
A peaceful earth, and break the bread
Of friendship with our fellow men;
We give Thee thanks for love.

The Unexpected

The official Canadian government finding in the Noronic disaster coincides with the popular judgment formed after the cruise ship burned at its dock in Toronto last Sept. 17.

There was needless loss of life—118 persons died—because the owners of the ship and its captain had failed to take adequate precautions against the kind of accident which occurred. Obviously, if the precautions had been adequate there would have been no wholesale loss of life. Any ship which provides no greater margin of safety to its passengers than was provided for the passengers of the Noronic is not safe; experience has shown that to be true. Experience had shown it to be true long before the Noronic disaster occurred.

Yet, there apparently is no way to tighten up precautions for dealing with the unexpected until after it has occurred. Then for a brief time everybody will be alert. But before long there will be a return to negligence and bad habits because the unexpected doesn't happen again. That is the usual cycle of neglect, disaster, vigilance and then neglect again. The safest time to go voyaging on the Great Lakes will be next summer. Five years from next summer the Noronic disaster will be something that happened a long time ago and probably won't happen again. Another disaster will be in the making.

Push In Right Direction

The Atomic Energy commission's report that one well-placed atom bomb would destroy Washington's usefulness as the seat of the federal government has set residents of the capital to biting their nails in anxiety. But if there's any comfort in it, a well-placed bomb would do the same thing to every other city.

The AEC points out that the only solution to this problem of wide-open vulnerability is dispersal. For Washington that would mean preparation of plans for a city which would be scattered over such a vast area that it couldn't be immobilized by one atom bomb. All departmental buildings would be separated by vast distances from their nearest neighbors. Key buildings, such as the Capitol and White House, would be equipped with duplicate facilities beneath the ground. It would be a monumental undertaking for any city to do this. For all important cities to do it would be fantastic.

Yet, apprehension of the damage atom bombs would cause in a war is giving a push in the right direction to urban development. For years, city planners have been preaching decentralization as the cure for most municipal ills. They have been advising cities to take advantage of the tendency of their populations to disperse over ever-wider areas—not for safety but for a larger degree of satisfaction in the pursuit of happiness. This tendency already has created the population entity known as the metropolitan area, which is the built-up area containing at its center the original city, sometimes containing less than half the area's total population. The atomic era will accelerate the mass migration of urban Americans to the suburbs.

Same Old Managers

The familiar rumor about Bill Veeck selling the Cleveland Indians finally has materialized into fact, just in time for the hot-stove discussion that precedes every new baseball season.

If any one thing about the Indians is peculiar—unique would be a more tactful word—it's their managers. Not their playing managers, bench managers, or front office managers. But their public managers. These are numbered in the millions, comprising the greater part of the population within 150 miles of Cleveland. Though the Indians nominally represent a city, they actually are professional baseball's representatives from a region that extends from Erie, Pa., to Toledo, dipping southward in its middle reaches toward Columbus. And in this hotbed of baseball interest everybody from house-bound old ladies to loose-limbed urchins assumes a proprietary interest in what happens to the Indians.

Bill Veeck's great accomplishment was to realize the potentialities of the vast audience and do something about it. It made him a lot of money and it gave him and the Indians' followers an unusual amount of fun. Presumably, the new owners are similarly interested in both money and fun. No one knows yet what they will do in the way of changes. But whatever it is, the real managers of the Indians will give every move their careful and earnest consideration, beginning with the hot stoves this winter and continuing—the new owners hope—with the beginning of another baseball season next April, less than five months from now.

more nerve and determination as the thermometer falls below zero. Pedestrians will step along at a more rapid gait. The inclination to dawdle will be curbed everywhere except in front of fireplaces and hot stoves, where events of the late summer and prospects for the next one can be chewed over at leisure.

The Brisk Season

There can be no close agreement on the temperature which gives maximum stimulation to human energy. But it's firmly established by experience that energy is lowest when the temperature's highest and rises sharply when the weather turns chilly.

The brisk season has arrived, after a good deal of hesitation. The tempo of living already has quickened noticeably and will continue to step up until the end of the holiday season. There will be less loitering and indecision along the way. The rabbit hunter and the woman shopper will share the same impulse to carry out their missions in a workmanlike manner.

Students will increase their efforts to assimilate knowledge, in much the same way that a dog will step up his efforts to grow a longer and deeper coat of hair. Only the motives differ; the student thinks ahead to semester examinations, while the dog's instinct probes ahead to the dimly remembered era when survival demanded adequate insulation.

Whatever human beings do, whether it's the pursuit of culture or money, will be done with

Women, The Dears

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK THE MAIN THING wrong with American womanhood is women.

A man who tries to do these forlorn daughters of Eve a favor is just a moon calf. It always backfires on him.

Particularly is a mere man foolish to try to give them any advice in the magic realm of love. Herewith is a postmortem on a little attempt I made.

Knowing that I am a woman's whole existence, I checked to see if I couldn't find them a shortcut in this field to save wear and tear on their claws.

My inquiry disclosed that—Dr. Kinsey to the contrary—the greatest lovers are men in their 40s. This truth was confirmed by Dorothy Dix and the fact that the eight top-drawing male film stars are all 40 plus.

You would think that this discovery would be hailed by the ladies as a great timesaver for them. No longer need they waste their own romantic prime trying to rob a teen-age cradle or making goo-goo eyes at Civil war veterans. They could go ahead and concentrate on their real prey—the men of two score years and slightly more.

But what happen?

My research reaped only a crop of feminine catcalls of derision. I have space for only two.

JEERED A WIDOW in Hutchinson, Kan.:

"Romantic old devils nothing—they're conceived old puppies."

"The 40 to 50-year-old daddy with the cash might have a chance. But he'd be lucky if he found one young girl in a hard row of stumps willing to make the sacrifice and put up with his indigestion, bad breath—please, lady! 'false teeth, bald head and a dozen other ailments.'"

And the dear old widow concluded joyously:

"Daddy, oh daddy, I know what I am talking about. I took a couple of old pot bellies to a good cleaning myself when I was a bewitching young lady. Print this and give the old pot bellies something to think about."

An equal hoot came from a 34-year-old wife in Ashland, Ky., who said her husband was 33 "and I wouldn't wish him to be one day older."

"JUST WHERE you old men get the idea you are attractive is a mystery to me.

"Let me tell you why the popular men film stars are over 40. These men are made up to look young, they are excellent actors and they don't have bald heads and potbellies. And, last but not least, the girls don't have to touch their loose, flabby cheeks."

(Editor's note: She has you there, Boyle.)

(Boyle's note: A girl that fastidious can always wear cotton work gloves.)

And the Ashland wife wound up thus:

"Don't ever think any young girl marries an old man for his sex appeal. It is always for his dollars or acres appeal. The sooner men find this out, the happier they will be."

All I can say to these ladies is—go bark at Vice President Barkley, dearies. Who is in Shanghai today—you or the widow from Missouri?

Anything Can Happen, and Probably Will

Men and Machinery Needed by Tito

By Alex H. Singleton

BELGRADE A WEALTHY COUNTRY in raw materials, Yugoslavia suffers from one commodity in short supply—manpower.

It needs muscled men to get out the goods and skilled technicians to process them for use at home and for sale abroad, as much, and perhaps even more, than it needs machinery.

Both problems—men and machinery—stem from Marshal Tito's ambitious five-year plan to balance the country's fruitful agricultural production with industrial development.

The task he and the country have set for themselves has been made doubly difficult by the Moscow-directed Cominform's campaign against Yugoslavia.

Border provocations, the Cominform economic boycott and Russian propaganda pressure—all of them adding to an uncertain threat of war—have forced Tito to maintain an army of about 800,000 men.

In a country with a population of approximately 15,000,000, this represents a heavy drain on the manpower reservoir, particularly since the soldiers come from the age group best equipped for meeting current needs.

PART OF THE problem has been met through use of "voluntary" work brigades drawn from factories and farms and universities to push completion of certain priority projects.

These work brigades are building a completely new City of Belgrade at the confluence of the Danube and Sava rivers with government buildings, apartment houses, shopping centers and schools.

They are laying out a new road between Belgrade and Zagreb, Yugoslavia's second city, which is scheduled for completion late this month. Thousands of army troops are shoveling here also.

From the rubble of wartime shelling and bombs, the work brigades are erecting a new Tito-grad which is destined to serve as the capital of the Yugoslav republic of Montenegro.

In many ways, all these projects have been a back-aching chore; an expenditure in sweat and toil which would have been cut substantially by a few score more bulldozers, cement mixers and steam shovels.

The Yugoslav authorities recognize all that. But it takes hard cash—or loans—to overcome the difficulty.

THE COUNTRY IS approaching a solution from two directions: First by pushing production with all available manpower and machinery; second, by seeking financial support from the west to increase its mechanical output while decreasing its manpower output.

The third factor which may play a part in Yugoslavia's economic recovery is the question of getting more manpower.

Tito's government already has made one move in that direction. Tito recently told a delegation of Italians here on an inspection tour that "we need many expert workers and we would like to have from Italy at least a few tens of thousands of men."

Is U. S. A. the Best or Worst?

FROM THE DAILY OKLAHOMAN

If you think you are good at solving crossword puzzles, try figuring out this one.

Millions of people are trying earnestly to improve the governments of certain foreign countries and to make over those governments in our own American image. At the same time other Americans are demanding that we call in all the other countries of the world and set them to helping govern the people of the United States.

Our entire foreign policy is based upon the conviction that many a foreign government is not up to our American standard and leaves much to be desired. For that reason we have our agents in many nations trying to make over the system of government that prevails in those countries. We spend millions to keep the government of Italy from becoming Communist. We spend hundreds of millions trying to revise the system of government in Germany and Japan and Korea and in countless islands of the seas. We scan the governments of several South American countries and pronounce them anything but good. We are horrified by the governments of Russia and Yugoslavia and Hungary and Czechoslovakia and Poland. We yearn intensely to see all those governments recast in an American image.

At the same time our one-world protagonists are so completely disatisfied with our American system of government that they want to call in representatives of all alien powers and have them create a super-government for the control of all mankind. They want to have done with the government of the United States and create in its stead a government fashioned by the agents of Russia and France and Romania and Greece and Japan and Korea and China and Poland and Britain and Patagonia and Iran and Turkey and all the rest.

One school says that we have the best government ever fashioned and that it must be made the model for all the rest. Another school holds that our government is moth-eaten and that it must be overhauled and recast by alien hands from every quarter of the globe. And confusion is made more confounded by the fact that both of these schools are working furiously at one and the same time.

There'll Always Be a Streetcar

FOR 30 YEARS, streetcars have been on the wane in the United States. Today, their number is less than one-third of the one-time peak.

But there will always be a streetcar, fans for this mode of transit say. Their view is well supported by a look at transportation systems all over the world.

In the United States trolley cars developed to modern specifications since 1935 are fast, quiet, comfortable, and economical. Pittsburgh operates nearly 700, including 100 new ones this year. The 5,000 now in service in more than a score of cities will almost certainly continue on the scene for a long time to come.

Abroad, Australia's oil-short cities have reported a swingback from buses to electric streetcars, notes National Geographic Society. Russia and Spain have copied some recent American-type trolleys. Cities in Europe, South America, Asia, and Africa eagerly seek the best of the cars retired from service in the United States.

Surface trolleys rolled their last mile on Manhattan Island in mid-1947. Bronx and Brooklyn lines are making way for buses. Hartford, Grand Rapids, Syracuse, Nashville, Miami, and Houston are a few of the many other cities where the streetcar now belongs to the past.

However, 42 ten-year-old streetcars retired a year ago in New York's Bronx are now among the finest in Vienna. The war took heavy toll of the Austrian city's 3,600 trolleys, then already past their prime. Another 25 comparatively new Bronx cars were shipped last March to Bombay. Throughout Europe and Asia in general, cars are overaged and overworked.

New York pioneered tracked vehicles with Broadway horse-cars in 1827. London waited until 1861. The first electric traction line of any extent is credited to Richmond, Virginia, in 1888. Streetcars really pushed forward from 1902 to 1917, while the motor vehicle was still an infant. Trolley excursions were popular, traction companies had plain and fancy cars that could be chartered, and built amusement parks as goals of excursion runs. Baltimore's black-adorned funeral car, Dolores, did a brisk business for years, since most of the city's cemeteries were along the trolley lines.

Hollywood Moves Madly From Game to Game

NEW YORK I?" is Miss Fontaine's favorite game. She pins the name of some other famous person on the back of each famous person who is her guest and then the hapless guest must spend the night hours trying to guess who he is. Get it?

You get a pencil with your hat check when you spend an evening with Miss Lana Turner. And you play something called "Trailers," an intellectual orgy that not only requires pencils but paper, too! Gad no time for mischief in the Turner manse.

My head is at half-mast today as I acknowledge the grave injustice I have been doing the movie colony in imagining that as soon as the guests gather it is all over but the reefers and the rasslin'.

My eyes have been opened by a book hot off the press called "Party Games," a tome written by Maggi McNellis, a belle of radio, and Hubie Boscowitz, the international bridge expert.

In their laudable endeavor to make each and every reader the life of party, Miss McNellis and Mr. Boscowitz describe the favorite parlor games of more than a score of Hollywood notables, including Clark Gable, Gregory Peck, Lana Turner and Joseph Cotten.

I don't know just when the indelible lipstick was replaced by the lead pencil in Hollywood. But it's obvious kissing games are out, not to say gauche or even repugnant to Hollywood's haut monde.

The intellectual ferment of Hollywood drives its queens and matinee idols into involved evenings and variations of twenty questions, categories, anagrams, "Who Said That?" and "Information, Please."

IT IS PLAIN from this book that pencils are dished out with the cocktails instead of salted peanuts and from that moment every alert star is on his own.

Over at Miss Joan Crawford's house, the brain trusters play "Before and After," a game of such intellectual travail, involving the names of the great (mainly Hollywood) that no one has time for a friendly little pinch here, a pat there or a tussle on the stairs.

Lo, there is no time for simple dalliance on a night out at Miss Joan Fontaine's home. "Who am you?" is Miss Fontaine's favorite game. She pins the name of some other famous person on the back of each famous person who is her guest and then the hapless guest must spend the night hours trying to guess who he is. Get it?

You get a pencil with your hat check when you spend an evening with Miss Lana Turner. And you play something called "Trailers," an intellectual orgy that not only requires pencils but paper, too! Gad no time for mischief in the Turner manse.

It may come as some surprise to you, as it did to me, that getting with Miss Lana Turner. And you play something called "Trailers," an intellectual orgy that not only requires pencils but paper, too! Gad no time for mischief in the Turner manse.

During those frantic moments when stars just sit and glower at each other, Miss Anita Louise rushes to the rescue with a game called "Fumbles," in which each gentleman removes his necktie and gives it to a lady.

MEANWHILE the busy little hostess is giving each male guest a length of thread and a needle. When Anita Louise blows the whistle, the lady starts tying her partner's necktie—around his neck naturally.

And all the time, the poor man is trying to thread the needle. I don't know quite what the object of the needle is. Maybe to fend off the dame if she gets fresh.

Clark Gable's favorite game, so the book says, is called "the quiz relay game" and is so depressing mental that it guarantees to keep the players out all night doing nothing but answering questions.

All in all, I feel that Miss McNellis and Mr. Boscowitz have done Hollywood a great service with their new book. It will certainly prove that all work and no play makes even Clark a dully boy and will lead to nervous exhaustion, hypertension and ulcers as quick as wine, women and song.

In the meantime, would anyone in the audience like to play a good fast game of postoffice? (International News Service)

Health To You

Lobar Pneumonia Cure

LOBAR pneumonia—which is the most common of the pneumonias—is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus. The disease is more likely to develop when the body has become weakened by disease, poor nutrition, or old age. Germs can be breathed in large quantities from someone else who is harboring them.

A typical case of lobar pneumonia starts suddenly with a severe chill which may last for as long as half an hour. Soon after the chill, the temperature begins to go up and it rises rapidly to around 104 or 105 degrees. At the same time a person coming down with pneumonia may have general aches and pains with headache. Pain in the chest or side like that which is present in pleurisy, is also common. Cough which produces pain and does not bring up much mucus starts early. The breathing becomes rapid and each breath is shallow.

Unless steps have been taken to treat the condition promptly, the typical signs develop by the second or third day. By this time cold sores around the lips are likely to be present, the facial expression shows anxiety, the pain in the side or chest is severe and the breathing is rapid. Cough brings up a fair amount of sputum which is likely to be tinged with blood. The temperature stays high, at 104 or 105.

Now there is only one chance in 20 or 25 of dying from the disease instead of one chance in three. Lobar pneumonia has dropped from being one of the most important causes of death to being one of the least important of the major diseases. Of course, diagnosis must be made early and treatment started promptly, because the results of treatment are never so good in the person who has been ill for several days.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The working man is better off this Thanksgiving than before... whoever would have thought the day would come when he could be charged 83 cents for a pound of coffee?

Today the panhandler who used to beg a dime for a cup of coffee is getting 50 cents for information on where he gets a cup of coffee with coffee in it for a dime.

The suggestion has been made that coffee might be manufactured out of a waste crop but no one has been able to find a waste crop since the government started buying them.

And meanwhile its not unusual to have a man with steam leaking out of his vest pocket back you in a corner and hiss "hey buddy... wanna buy a hot cup of java right off the boat for two bits?"

Anyway turkeys were cheaper this year... people who couldn't afford them last year came much closer.

And they have a new turkey suitable for four people... the old turkeys were suitable for eight people but it took 16 people to afford them.

Only a few more weeks until parents will be darn glad Christmas is over.

Letting someone else do your thinking is just thoughtlessness.

No wonder the centenarian crop is so short. A woman of 102 says nobody lives that long except by minding their own business.

Naked hills—nude trees—bare limbs! No wonder the corn is shocked!

Legion Auxiliary Hears Security Talk

JOHN ARTER, reserve officer, stressed the need of national security when he was guest speaker at a meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Tuesday evening in the Legion home. He warned against a present dayism which is trying to gain a foothold in America.

Mrs. Golda Bumbaugh, national security chairman, who was in charge of the program, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Harold Babb, pianist, entertained with a group of solos, which were well received.

Mrs. Frederick S. Barckhoff, Jr., gave a talk in the interest of the Girl Scout Village fair benefit Dec. 2 and 3 in the Memorial building.

The post and auxiliary will hold a joint meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 14, at the home. There will be a buffet supper at 6:30.

Used toys are being received for the Santa Claus workshop. These toys will be repaired and distributed to needy families at Christmas.

The auxiliary county council meeting is set for Dec. 13 in East Liverpool with auxiliary No. 4 host.

Mrs. Duber Miller, Mrs. Joseph Bryan, Mrs. Russell Burns, Mrs. Theodore Coyne, Mrs. A. B. Combs and Mrs. Donald Johnston served lunch.

MISS DORIS JONES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of Elkton, and George Eells of Lisbon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Eells, were married in a candlelight ceremony at 5 p. m. Sunday in the bride's home.

Rev. Earl Brooks, pastor of the Elkton Methodist church, officiated in the double ring ceremony before an improvised altar of white chrysanthemums, ferns and candles.

Attired in a blue dress suit, the bride complemented it with a corsage of red roses and white carnations. Miss Jo Ann Ford, bridesmaid, wore a grey crepe dress. Her corsage was of red and white carnations. Felix Rutecki was best man.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the bride, was dressed in beige crepe. Mrs. Jessie Ford, Lisbon, aunt of the groom, appeared in blue crepe. Both wore corsages of red and white carnations.

Thirty relatives and friends attended the wedding and reception. Mrs. Eells attended Lisbon High school and is a graduate of the Ohio Valley Business college, East Liverpool. She was employed in the County Health league office. Mr. Eells served 18 months in the Army. He is employed in the Lisbon A and P market, market.

HENRY WOLFGANG, Otto Christensen and Glendon McKenzie provided the program for a meeting of the Men's Missionary Movement Monday evening in the First Friends church.

Mr. Christensen told of missionary activities in his home church in Brooklyn, N. Y., and Messrs. Wolfgang and McKenzie gave a report of the lives of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Matti, missionaries in China.

Mr. McKenzie also read an original article on "The Lord's Thanksgiving" and Mr. Wolfgang conducted the devotions. Eighteen members in attendance were served refreshments by Mrs. Wolfgang, Mrs. Christensen and Mrs. McKenzie.

MRS. Frank Thomas of Millville, formerly of Salem, was complimented with a lovely party Sunday evening at her home.

Arranged by her three daughters, Mrs. Russell Gunn of the Greenford rd., Mrs. Glen M. Fair of Salem and Mrs. W. L. Whitney of Canton, the event celebrated her birthday anniversary.

There was 25 in the company, including her eight children and their families. Miss Josephine Dodney of Hartsville, classmate of Miss Martha Gunn at Kent State university, was a guest.

A buffet supper was served from a lace-covered table, which was graced by two decorated birthday cakes. Mrs. Thomas received many gifts.

CONTINUING "The Ohio Story," members of the Travelers club presented three interesting papers when the club met Tuesday afternoon in the public library assembly room.

Mrs. C. H. Hurlburt opened the program with a paper on "William Penn Highway." "Ohio's First Ladies" was the topic of Mrs. Robert Campbell's paper, while Mrs. Eugene Young used for her subject, "Settling of the Western Reserve."

The next meeting is Nov. 29.

MR. and Mrs. Robert Cain, newlyweds were feted at a party Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brunner on the Washingtonville rd. Mrs. Cain is the former Vera Sox.

The couple were presented a miscellaneous shower. Games were played during the informal evening. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cain of Lisbon were among the 18 guests. Others were from Salem and vicinity.

MR. and Mrs. Earl F. Oyster of Shaker Heights, who were married Monday, are on their honeymoon trip to Florida and Cuba.

Mrs. Oyster, who lived in Twinsburg, is a former Salem resident. Mr. Oyster is a brother of the late Raymond C. Oyster, who was associated with the Electric Furnace Co.

AMONG the students who will be home for the Thanksgiving holiday are Barbara Wilson, Wheaton college, Norton, Mass.; Carol Kelley and Barbara Roese, Randolph-Macon College for Women, Lynchburg, Va.; Nancy Probst, Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., and Joseph F. Kelley, medical student, Western Reserve university, Cleveland.

THE social committee of the Women's Saxon society has planned a benefit for Friday evening at the club. Games with prizes will be featured. Lunch will be served by the committee: Mrs. Michael Kloos, Mrs. John Pauline and Mrs. Kathrine Gunesch.

David H. Frantz, senior at Ohio State university, will return home this evening to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frantz of W. Eighth st.

Mrs. Jessie Moore of Franklin st. spent Tuesday night in McKeesport, Pa., where she was called by the death of her cousin, Edward Schmidt, who was known in Salem through his visits.

Miss Bernice Lanpher of Cleveland will spend the weekend with her mother, Mrs. N. H. Lanpher of W. Tenth st.

Mae Scott Married To Ravenna Man

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Mae Scott of Liberty st. and Ernest G. Donnelly of Ravenna, which was solemnized Saturday noon by Rev. George C. Beebe, pastor of the Methodist church, in the church. He used the double ring ceremony. Homer S. Taylor, organist, played the nuptial melodies.

The bride, attired in blue, used grey accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. N. V. Hutton, of Ravenna, who wore a grey outfit and a corsage of pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Hutton was best man.

The bride is an employee of the Salem China Co. Her husband is employed in Ravenna.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly spent the weekend in Pittsburgh. They will reside at 969 Liberty st.

THE GLEANERS class of Holy Trinity Lutheran church, composed of High school girls, taught by Mrs. Thomas Crothers, enjoyed a coverdish supper Monday evening in the church.

Besides Mrs. Crothers, they were assisted in the dinner arrangements by Mrs. Deuber Miller and Mrs. Vaughn Nichols. To demonstrate her topic theme on the care of the skin and hair, Mrs. Arlene Kleon, beauty operator, used the girls of the class as assistants. She also advised correct hair styles for each. A Christmas party will be held during December.

MRS. D. W. LEWIS, leader of Girl Scout troop 20, sponsored a successful register party Monday evening in the Methodist church social room with the help of the girls.

Mrs. George Huston, organization chairman of the Salem Girl Scout council, gave an interesting talk relative to council's relation to troops and the parents of the girls. Families of the members were guests. Places were arranged for 45 at a table made lovely with bronze chrysanthemums and tapers. Green trefolls (Scout emblems) on which were this year's slogan, "Come Along With Me," and the troop number were used effectively in the decorations.

ASSOCIATES of the Get-Together club were guests of Mrs. Homer Hilliard Tuesday evening at her home, W. Pershing street.

Five hundred was the favorite pastime. Scores revealed that Mrs. Rocco Circosta and Mrs. Leonard Perkins had first and second honors. Lunch was served.

The Dec. 7 meeting will be in the Circosta home, W. Pershing st.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brantsch and William Filler of Euclid st. will go to Ellwood City, Pa., Thanksgiving day to be guests of Mrs. Brantsch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Botschner.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley of East Palestine were recent visitors in the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaminsky of E. Sixth st.

Miss Beaver

Miss Beaver Soloist For Pop Concert

MISS GEORGEANNA BEAVER, Leetonia violinist, will be guest soloist in the second of a series of pop concerts at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, given by the Youngstown Symphony society.

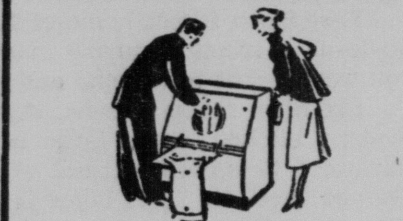

This season the society is initiating a new adventure in the popular music field by having pop concerts during the winter season. Concerts are being given at the new auditorium in the recreational center of the Hungarian Presbyterian church, Mahoning ave.

Miss Beaver is well known in local musical circles. Miss Canille Firestone of Lisbon was her first instructor and taught her for several years. She also studied with Michael Ficocell and Alberto Reardon of Youngstown and after graduation from Leetonia High school, she attended the Cleveland Institute of Music from which she graduated last year with honors. During these four years she has been a student of the well known concert violinist, Joseph Knitzer.

Last year she was chosen as

Shirley Amon Wed To Richard Carmen

Miss Shirley Amon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Amon of Kensington, was attired in ice blue satin and used gold accessories when she became the bride of Richard Carmen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carmen of Sebring, recently in the Sebring Church of Christ. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Rev. Paul Magnuson, pastor, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Attendants were Miss Carrie Mills of Sebring and Earl Carmen, brother of the groom. Miss Mills wore a costume of fall green and black accessories.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mrs. Paul Martin of Homewood and Mrs. Carl Polen of Kensington, sisters of the bride, presided at the refreshment table.

The couple are home from a honeymoon trip and are residing in Sebring.

THE Three Links Social club of the Odd Fellows will meet next Monday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall. A coverdish supper at 6:30 will be followed by an informal social time.

Massillon Keeps State Title

Edges Mansfield In Final Poll

Chuck Mather Takes Second Championship

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Nov. 23—(AP)—The winners—and still state high school football champions—the Tigers of Massillon.

So decided 33 sports editors and six radio broadcasters today as they voted Coach "Chuck" Mather's mighty men into the top spot of the Big Ten for the second straight campaign, in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

The Tigers, defeated only by Mansfield's surprising Tygers in a 10-game slate, piled up 350 votes in the canvass. Mansfield, coached by colorful Augie Morningstar, former Purdue great, wound up second with 332½, while Canton McKinley, leader in the poll the last five weeks but beaten 6-0 Saturday by Massillon, was third with 304.

Cincinnati Purcell's unbeaten team, winner of 10 straight, was a rousing fourth with 269½—the first Queen City club ever to threaten the north-eastern sector's combination of the scholastic grid picture.

Massillon, a 16-14 loser to Mansfield in the Tygers' first victory in history over the Tygers, was the top choice of 15 of the writers. Mansfield, beaten once in nine games, won 11 first place votes, Cincinnati Purcell eight, and Toledo Libbey, seventh place, one.

Massillon hit the peak on the final day, just as it did a year ago. In 1948 Massillon dropped an early-season game to Alliance, while Canton McKinley rolled over nine straight foes—but in the finale the Tygers took the Bulldogs 21-12 and went around 'em for the state title in Mather's first year at the helm. This one makes it two in a row for "Chuck," and gives him 18 wins and two defeats over the two-year span.

One newcomer popped into the Big Ten on closing day, Wooster's scintillating Generals moving into the tenth spot as Louisville skidded out. It was "golden anniversary" year for Wooster's team, and Coach Gene Coleman's kids responded by winning nine and tying one. They outscored the foe 394 to 73 for the school's third unbeaten season in a half-century. The previous Wooster scoring record was 290—back in 1914.

Junior High Wins First Cage Tilt

Salem Junior High's basketball team won its first tilt of the season Tuesday afternoon in the Memorial building, when it defeated East Palestine 58-7.

Each player in the lineup scored in the rout, which saw Salem lead 22-0 at the end of the first quarter. In a prelude game, the Palestine seventh graders won from Salem's grade seven team 32-29.

Fesler Worries For Lack Of Practices

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23—(AP)—Ohio State's coach, Wesley Fesler, is worried. He doesn't think his football team will get in enough practice for the Rose Bowl game.

Because of quarterly examinations through Dec. 16, the players won't leave for Pasadena until two days later.

"That," he told the Ohio State club of Cleveland last night, "will give us only 12 days of practice at Pasadena."

Another concern, he said, is picking the eight additional members of the squad from the junior varsity to make the trip. Rose Bowl rules allow a squad of 44 players. In the Big Ten, a traveling squad is limited to 36.

Irish Favored To Pound U.S.C.

Final Week Of Grid Play Is Forecast

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(AP)—Making the final football selections not in the least pleased with an average of .806 for the season on 529 correct picks of 657 games.

This week's picks: Notre Dame over Southern California: A year ago the Trojans allowed the Notre Dames to score a tying touchdown in the final minutes. Come Saturday, the Irish will pile up an early score and retain their ranking as the nation's No. 1 team.

Army over Navy: This game, another Saturday feature, will lure 103,000 spectators. All of them will be surprised if Navy wins.

Cornell over Pennsylvania: This Turkey day contest has the Ivy League pennant at stake. Cornell's sharper attack, led by Dorset and Chollet, to defeat the Quakers.

Rice over Baylor: The advantage of playing at home gives Rice the thin edge.

Texas over Texas A and M: Almost everyone has belted the Aggies this year but the cheering Cadets may inspire the club to give the Long-Horns a rough Thanksgiving afternoon.

Kentucky over Miami: Although Miami isn't a Southeastern conference member it has been ruled that a victory over Kentucky Friday night would lift the Wildcats into the title race and make them eligible for bowl consideration.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma A and M: Jim Lookabaugh quits as A and M's coach after this game. But this team will need more than the desire to give him a farewell victory to defeat the Sooners Saturday afternoon.

Other selections: Louisiana State over Tulane, Auburn over Clemson, Brown over Colgate, Chattanooga over Duquesne, Maryland over West Virginia, Western Reserve over Case, Miami (Ohio) over Cincinnati.

Alabama over Florida, Boston College over Holy Cross, Fordham over New York university, Georgia Tech over Georgia, Kansas over Arizona, Mississippi over Mississippi State, North Carolina over Virginia, Southern Methodist over TCU, Tennessee over Vanderbilt, Tulsa over Arkansas, Wake Forest over South Carolina, William and Mary over North Carolina State.

Chick Maggiori, Detroit Lions halfback, won football letters at Indiana, Notre Dame and Illinois during war training with the Marines.

Management has the spotlight on this Purchasing Agent. He's knocking the tar out of delays and slow-downs by doing a topflight job of getting top-quality industrial supplies and materials handling equipment in a hurry—at the right prices. The secret of his success is a big 332-page catalog that contains 1250 different first-quality industrial items from among the 8500 stocked by this company for on-the-spot delivery. The catalog is published by The Industrial Supplies Company, 324 N. Seventh St., Steubenville, who carry the largest stock of mill supplies and materials handling equipment in this area. More often than not, a phone call to Steubenville 2-3635 will locate scarce items that are difficult to find elsewhere.

Bierman May Take New Job

Athletic Director Post Open For Bernie

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 23—(UP)—Football Coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota can step upstairs to the job of athletic director, it appeared today, but it was strictly up to Bierman himself whether he takes the job.

The veteran grey-haired grid tutor of the Gophers was the first name to pop into the picture after President Dr. James L. Morrill announced that Frank McCormick had submitted his resignation as director.

There was no doubt, according to administrative sources at the university, that Bierman could have the job, but there was no tip whether he would be interested.

There was some speculation that Bierman might consider taking the job on a dual basis, retaining his present job but adding the director chore.

Forecasters who suggested that Bierman would not ask for the job and retire as football coach pointed out that despite two defeats, his Gophers still had a successful season.

Minnesota finished the campaign with seven victories and two defeats, from Michigan, 14 to 7, and Purdue, 13 to 7. But the Gophers walked the co-champions of the Big Ten, and the Rose Bowl representative, Ohio State, 27 to 0, and had more triumphs over the entire season than any other club in the conference.

Book Sandy Saddler For Cleveland Bout

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23—(AP)—Ex-world featherweight champion Sandy Saddler of New York City has been matched in a 10-round bout with Orlando Zulueta, Cuban lightweight, at the Arena next Tuesday night.

Others carded for the Cleveland News Christmas fund show are Rocky Graziano vs Sonny Horne and Dick Wagner vs Chuck Hunter, both 10-rounders.

Texas university varsity athletic teams are nicknamed "Longhorns"—the freshman outfits are called "Shorthorns."

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder of the Syracuse university football team is the 22nd head grid coach in Orange history.

Hank Greenberg Hopes To Build

Counts On Farm Stars For Future Years

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23—(AP)—Rebuilding Cleveland's baseball club to its 1948 championship form will be a long-range project with the Tribe's farm club talent as a cornerstone, says General Manager Hank Greenberg.

The one-time home-run belting "Hammering Hank," now dubbed "High Henry"—made it plain to newsmen in his first conference with them that he is not counting much on any big player deals with other clubs.

Their stars are too old or they're asking too much money, was the way Greenberg sized it up.

Like the Tribe's new president, Ellis W. Ryan, who insists he intends to make running the ball club "a lifetime" proposition, the new general manager is in no hurry. He promises no pennant next year or even the year after. "We're building," Greenberg declared, "not for a single season, but for many."

He has his eye on players like Luke Easter, giant first baseman and former Pacific Coast home run king; third baseman Al Rosen, a whiz in the minor league at San Diego but thus far unable to click against American league pitching; second baseman Bobby Wilson of San Diego, described as "a marvel in the field"; infielder Leo Thomas, new draftee from Portland, and others.

"We've produced more really promising ball players on our farms this year than any other club in the majors," said Greenberg. "That's where our plans for the future are."

Greenberg should know his Indian farm club material well for he has been in charge of Cleveland's farm club operations the past two seasons under Bill Veeck.

Questions on the future of Manager Lou Boudreau were sidestepped by Greenberg, except for a remark that it would be strictly up to Lou to decide whether he would play shortstop or third base.

Hank ducked again when he was asked: "Do you plan to send Satchel Paige a contract?" He answered: "He's still on the roster, isn't he?"

There was no sidestepping by Greenberg when Luke Easter's name came up. "I saw Easter on the coast,"

Greenberg said. "I talked to people whose opinion I value—people like Del Baker and Bucky Harris. I thought the big guy was as great as anything I'd seen. Baker and Harris assured me I was right. So why wouldn't I think he can hit?"

"Yes, I saw him come out of the hospital after an operation on his knee and after six weeks of idleness and I saw him playing a position where he doesn't belong (right field) and I saw him go to bat maybe once or twice in a game. He didn't hit. And I still say he'll hit."

The Tribe brought Easter here late last season and used him largely as a pinchhitter and right fielder.

When Greenberg says Easter and other new Tribe talent will have a full opportunity to make the grade, it carries weight, for he made it clear at his initial news conference that he is in charge.

All-Southwestern Team Is Chosen

ATLANTA, Nov. 23—(AP)—Tulane, Kentucky and Louisiana State—closest approaches to anything like football powers in the deep south—fill more than half the roster of the Associated Press All-Southern team.

Each of the big, fast squads placed two men on the first team. Tennessee, Auburn, Alabama, Florida and Mississippi have one representative each.

The only repeaters from the 1948 all-stars are Tulane's great fullback, senior Eddie Price, and junior Tackle Paul Lea, and Florida's halfback Chuck Hunsinger.

Others named were Travis Tidewell, Auburn back; Bob Gain, Kentucky tackle; Bud Sherrod of Tennessee and Melvin Lyle of L. S. U., ends; Allen Hover of L. S. U. and Ed Holdnak of Alabama guards; Harry Ulinski of Kentucky, center; and John Dotley of Mississippi, back.

BUCKEYES GET ROSE BOWL NOD—Ohio State University students crowd around a fire to ward off brisk winds as they wait in line outside Ohio Stadium in Columbus to buy tickets for the Rose Bowl game. Official announcement that the Buckeyes would represent the Western conference against the University of Southern California in the New Year's Day classic was the signal for a jubilant parade throughout the city.

Pacific Eleven May Get Bowl

Santa Clara, Cal
Already Have Games

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP)—The Pacific coast, where football is an sharp rebound, promises to do a lot of business in the post-season bowls.

With California and Santa Clara already assigned to important roles, the name of College of the Pacific popped up today as a prospect for one of the main Jan. 2 games.

The unbeaten, untied Pacificans were recommended highly to sponsors of a big-time fixture by Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, whose California Bears will tangle with Ohio State in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena.

"They have an outstanding record," Waldorf said. "They can hold their own in the best of company. Pacific is a very colorful team with a big line, outstanding backs and a great quarterback in Eddie Le Baron."

Waldorf did not disclose the source seeking information on the Pacific team except to say it was one of the largest bowl groups.

College of the Pacific, an independent which has rolled up 412 points while yielding 66 in nine games, rated 11th in the latest Associated Press poll, three above Santa Clara.

Santa Clara, twice beaten and once tied, was named yesterday to meet an unranked opponent in the Orange Bowl at Miami. Opposition may be furnished by University of Miami if the well-liked hometowners trounce Kentucky Friday night.

Tulane, Tennessee and the loser of Saturday's southwest headliner between Rice and Baylor are also under consideration for the other Miami spot.

The Rice-Baylor victor will be host in the Cotton Bowl. Villanova and College of the Pacific are seen as potential Dallas guests.

Sugar Bowl bigwigs held an important pow-wow in New Orleans yesterday but kept their discussions strictly private. They promised to let the public know Saturday exactly what's cooking.

Unbeaten, untied Oklahoma is figured a cinch to return to the Sugar Bowl against possibly Tulane, providing the Green Wave beats L.S.U. Saturday.

Joe Louis, 228, Packs Them In

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 23.—(AP)—Joe Louis bulges around the middle. A roll of fat oozes over the waistline of his royal purple trunks.

Fat and slow at 228½ pounds, the retired heavyweight champ still has what it takes to excite a fight fan.

The Newark armory buzzed as the 35-year-old Brown Bomber climbed through the ropes last night for a 10-round exhibition with young Johnny Cheshul of Bayonne, N. J.

If you didn't look too closely, you might imagine this was the Louis who bombed out Jersey Joe Walcott in the summer of 1948. But by no stretch of the imagination could you conjure up the image of the trim tiger who annihilated Max Schmeling in 1938.

It was a very good house for a meaningless exhibition. Some 5,000 paid $15,200. Louis took home about $3,600.

Cheshul wasted no time getting on his bike. Louis stood in mid-ring and jabbed while the Bayonne lad retreated in circles. It almost seemed as though Joe was afraid he might hit him too hard.

Louis might have knocked out Cheshul in the fifth but he didn't open up again. Twice he measured his man in the sixth with that long left hand. Each time, Cheshul got away.

Strikes to Spare

There was a shadow of the old Louis in the tenth when he finished strong, chasing Cheshul around the ring, digging three hard rights to the body just before the final bell.

Telephone Service Protest Misses Fire

COLUMBUS, Nov. 23.—(AP)—The State Utilities commission considered today whether telephone service provided by the Ohio Central Telephone Co. in Rittman is satisfactory.

The commission weighed testimony presented at a hearing yesterday. Complaints against telephone service in the Richland county village were made by a Rittman Citizens committee for protesting telephone service. Defense of the service was made by company officials.

It appeared at the end of the hearing, that the commission would do little to aid the protesters. Commission Chairman H. L. Mason observed as testimony concluded:

"It occurs to me the testimony shows that local and long distance service in Rittman is reasonably satisfactory."

Man Intrudes On Akron Home, Strikes Woman
AKRON, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Police searched today for a "probably demented" man who invaded the home of School Teacher James Mallo and slugged his wife with a table lamp.

The intruder also injured their six-week-old son, James, Jr., police said.

Mrs. Mallo was removed to People's hospital where she was in fair condition. Her baby was in Children's hospital for observation.

Detective Capt. John F. Struzenski said Mrs. Mallo told him the man entered her bedroom as she was tending the baby yesterday and hit her with the lamp.

No money was taken, Struzenski reported.

Trailer Burns At Columbiana

Elser Family Now With Relatives

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 23 — A house trailer belonging to Mrs. Ivan Elser, parked west of the Lisbon road near the former Y. and S. Railway crossing was badly damaged by fire Tuesday afternoon. The interior and the contents were destroyed.

The fire department responded to an alarm at 12:40 during the noon hour and prevented complete destruction of the trailer. Mrs. Elser was absent from home at her work in the Franklin furniture factory, when the fire was seen by neighbors.

Fire Chief Harvey Hisey is unable to account for the origin of the blaze other than on the supposition that it may have been from an oil heater.

Mrs. Elser had insurance on the trailer, but none on the contents. Her two small boys were at school in Columbiana when the fire occurred. The family is now with relatives in New Waterford.

County Orchardists To View Exhibition

Vernon Patterson, horticultural extension specialist of Ohio State university will show orchardists the latest methods in fruit tree pruning in the A. A. Less orchards a mile east of Greenford, Thursday afternoon, Dec. 1.

The meeting will hold in the Less orchard at 2 p. m. if the weather is suitable for outside work. If not, an inside meeting will be held.

Patterson will show how trees of various sizes and ages should be pruned to produce the most satisfactory fruit crop. Pruning fruit trees has been a hand job in the past.

Quite recently, some new power pruning equipment has been developed. It is expected that there will be one or more of these new power pruning outfits in the demonstration to show how orchardists can save labor and speed up the pruning operations in their orchards.

All orchardists in this area are invited to attend the demonstration.

PRESIDENT Daniel Chanis, Jr., of Panama was forced out of office in a coup carried out in the middle of the night by police. Leading the coup which forced Chanis to resign was Col. Jose Antonio Remon. He announced that the police force was recognizing Roberto F. Chiari, former vice president who was sworn in at six in the morning.

Dayton Painter Sent South To Face Jail

COLUMBUS, Nov. 23 — Peter M. Toht, who fled a Florida prison 18 years ago and became a painter in his hometown of Dayton, O., must go back.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche honored Florida's request for Toht's return yesterday after an extradition hearing conducted by his executive secretary, John W. Peck.

Toht's attorney, Strother B. Jackson, said at the hearing that Florida would return Toht to "inhuman punishment."

Toht got a job in Miami, Fla., recently and asked Dayton police Chief M. C. Kirkpatrick to see if Florida authorities still wanted him, Jackson said.

Then Toht's troubles began: Florida replied with a warrant for Toht's extradition.

Sears Store Subject Of Magazine Articles

C. R. Hay, manager of the local Sears, Roebuck and Co. store, has received notice that Collier's magazine, in four feature articles beginning in the Dec. 3 issue, will explore the national merchandising organization from the "ground up."

The articles were written by novelist and free lancer Francis Sill Wickware, after six weeks of research. The articles will trace the company's growth from its beginning in North Redwood, Minn., in 1886 to the present date.

Three Best Ways To Stuff Turkey

By GAYNOR MADDOX

MENTION stuffing for the Thanksgiving turkey and Gertrude Blair starts thinking fast. Outstanding American food expert with a long line of wonderful cooks for ancestors, Miss Blair gathers the following recipes from her memories of old-fashioned feasts.

"Grandmother's Sage and Onion Dressing which we regarded so fondly was one of the easiest to make, mostly because Grandmother prepared the bread in the easiest possible way. She merely dunked the dry bread in water until well soaked, then squeezed it to fluffy dryness. No crumbs to roll, no bread to cut in cubes."

Sage and Onion Dressing (For 12-pound bird)

Two loaves (second-day) bread, 1 tablespoon salt, ½ teaspoon dried sage, rubbed fine, ¼ teaspoon each of dried rosemary, thyme, marjoram rubbed fine, ¼ cup minced parsley, 1 cup celery leaves and top stems, cut fine, 1 cup finely cut onions, ½ cup melted drippings or butter or fortified margarine.

Soak bread in cold water, then squeeze dry, handful by handful. Add remaining ingredients except melted fat. Toss with two forks until well mixed. Add melted fat slowly, tossing as added. Stuff bird lightly. Any remaining dressing may be baked in one corner of the roasting pan.

Dressing No. 2

A dressing made with soaked bread squeezed dry has a slightly pudding-like texture. If you prefer one that is lighter and with more "grain," use the same ingredients as in dressing above, but mix as follows: Slice the second day bread; then cut into small cubes. Toast in a hot oven until lightly browned. Add remaining ingredients, except the fat. Mix well. Then melt the fat in ½ cup boiling water. Pour slowly over the dressing, tossing until well mixed.

Variations:
a) Add ¼ cup raisins; 2 tart apples, finely cut. Reduce onions to ½ cup.

b) Add one dozen oysters, each cut into several pieces. Use the oyster liquor as part of water in which to melt the fat.

Dressing No. 3

(Rich, fine, crumbly dressing for 12-pound bird)

One quart fine dry crumbs (can be made from 2 loaves bread), 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans (optional), 1 large onion, finely minced, 1 cup celery leaves and top stems, finely cut, ¼ cup finely minced parsley, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, ½ teaspoon sage (dry and powdered), 1 cup butter or margarine, melted.

Mix ingredients in order named, tossing well to mix.

Dressing for Duck or Spare Ribs
One cup crushed pineapple, drained of juice, 4 tart apples, pared, quartered and sliced, ½ cup raisins, ½ teaspoon powdered ginger.

Mix well. Use as stuffing for duck, spare ribs and any rich meat.

DEER ARE SEEN

DAMASCUS, Nov. 23 — Two deer were seen by Mr. and Mrs. James Balfour and Mrs. Ruth Balfour as they crossed an open lot on their farm.

Pay Hike Due Postmasters

Sen. Johnston Says Raise Due, Is Cheap

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 — (AP)—Some 42,000 postmasters in all parts of the country are next in line for a federal pay boost if Senator Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina has his way.

"We now have quite a few cases where the postmasters and bosses are paid less than their subordinates," Johnston said today. "I'm pretty certain congress will correct that early next session because it won't take much money."

Johnston is in a good spot to push action. He is chairman of the senate's civil service and post office committee which would handle the basic legislation.

Johnston said the unusual situation of subordinates being paid more than their bosses is chiefly in smaller post offices and resulted from a general postal pay boost passed this year.

It granted a flat $120 a year raise to some 500,000 postal employees and also allowed some to get additional increases up to $300 for service or longevity. But this did not apply to the postmasters and supervisors, Johnston said, although it added $114,000,000 to payroll costs.

Other pay boosts voted this year by congress included raises for persons in the army, navy, air forces and other uniformed services; 890,000 government workers under civil service; cabinet members and other top government officials, and most of the employees and staff of congress.
